60 year woman 'abducted' by cadres over land dispute approached the woman Aoyimti rallied for her release,

Courtesy: Morung Express Dimapur, Dec. 5: A 60 year-old woman, who was abducted by cadres of NSCN (IM) over a land dispute was released after a conglomeration of village councils intervened. The abduction occurred on the evening of December 3 and the woman was freed on December 4 unharmed after remaining in captivity overnight.

The released hostage, a resident of Eralibill village, Dimapur was abducted by three persons from her residence at around 4:30 pm on Thursday. The woman told media persons following the release that she was abducted over a land dispute to which she has no inkling. According to her, she was forcefully picked up by three who came in a car. She was then taken to the residence of an NSCN-IM functionary at Sovima, where she was briefly kept. From Sovima, she was taken to a place at Seithekiema, reportedly a 'detention centre', where she was detained over night.

Stating that she was not harmed during the period of detentions.

detention, the woman revealed to the media that the abduction was the alleged handiwork of one Among Tikhir, who is a 'Major' in the NSCN (IM). According to the woman, a few years ago, she had sold off a portion of her land to Among and his wife. It so happened that the couple separated following the sale. After the separation, the wife seeking her signature to document the land deed. Stating that subsequently gave her approval on paper, the woman added that during the time she had no inkling of the couple's separation.

Maintaining that she was made a scapegoat over the couple's dispute, the woman said that Among has been frequently harassing her to obtain her signature to claim ownership over the same plot of land. The harassments culminated to her abduction on December 3.

Following the news of the incident, a conglomeration of five village councils, known as the Joint Council Forum of Dobagaon, Ekranipathar, Eralibill, Hollohon colony and while a case of 'abduction' was lodged with the police. On December 4, the forum marched to the Ceasefire Monitoring Cell (CFMC) of the NSCN (IM) at Diphupar A' demanding the safe release of the hostage.

With public pressure mounting, the hostage was brought from the 'detention centre' at Seithekiema to the CFMC and handed over to her family in the presence of NSCN (IM) 'Steering Committee' members a around 1:30 pm after signing a 'release paper'. The content of paper was read out to the ole gathered outside the

According to members of the forum, the Eralibill village council was well aware of the land dispute. Stating that it is the responsibility of the village council to settle any dispute within the village, the forum members stated that the people party to the dispute had gone overboard by bypassing the village authority. "Dictating VC (village council) is not acceptable," they said. Asked whether the woman was made to sign any other agreement before the release, the forum said that it will not acknowledge any kind of agreement that may have taken place between the woman and the members of the NSCN (IM), who abducted her. The woman later told media persons that she had not signed any other document besides the release paper
