MLA's wife enjoy free salary without attending school

IT News
Imphal, Aug. 12: Despite the hue and cry for quality education in the state, a wife of an MLA who is serving as a school teacher has been withdrawing salary without attending the school throughout the year. Exact date of when she started attending the school could not be established at the moment as the head master of the school fear disciplinary action for exposing the truth on how the wife of the MLA has been abstaining from the school. A thorough investigation by some volunteers of a specific student body however found out that the MLA's wife has been abstaining from duty since her husband got elected as the member of the state Assembly in the last election. The student volunteers also found out that the MLA's wife did come to the school once in a blue moon only to sign attendance for at least one or two months. And as a reward she reportedly sanctioned some money to help the school running. The extraordinary school teacher is identified as Paonam Ongbi Shaman Devi wife of MLA Paonam Brojen who represents Wangjing Assembly Constituency. The school that she was supposed to attend regularly as she had been posted as teacher is Wangbal Junior Higher. In a telephonic conversation, a school teacher told the student body that she was a kind lady, who often gave around rupees 4000 every month for transportation of the school children. But one thing for sure is that this wife of the MLA has been drawing the salary without teaching and attending the school since her husband became the MLA.

KCP Chairman Laba greets people on 12th Foundation day of its armed wing MFL

IT News
Imphal, Aug. 12: Chairman of the Military Affairs Committee and president of the proscribed group Kangleipak Communist Party (KCP), Ksh Laba Meitei today greets the people of the region on occasion of the 12th Foundation day of its armed wing Meeyangmi Fingang Lanmi (MFL). The rebel group is celebrating the day on August 13, a released said. Chairman Laba in its statement term the coming of the foundation day as another courage entrusted to the party members. On the occasion the chairman also paid respect to all the fellow people and the revolutionary groups of the WESEA region particularly those in Manipur on occasion of the 12th Foundation Day. In his message the Chairman calls on all the revolutionary group of the region to unite in fighting the common enemy to reach the goal. The statement blamed the nation building process of the India as the result of the raise of various insurgency movements in the region. "Today the nation building process is crumbling" Laba said in his statement. The kind of movement for restoration of sovereignty and the movement for bringing a change to the Indian system have some similarity, it said and recalled on how a young Commander of Hizbul Mazahiddeen who was known as the poster boy of Insurgency was slaughtered by the Indian force on July 9, 2016. Following that in 29 days Indian force killed over 60 kashmiri. May attended the funeral of the late poster boy of the insurgency known as Burhan Wani. The statement also reminded on how the Pakistani Prime Minister stand with the people of the Kashmir and his announcement to observe black day on July 19 as a mark of respect to the freedom fighter. The KCP chairman also elaborated on how the India government has been inciting the idea of dependence to the people of the state. The Indian authority are waging war of mischief to misguide the people of the region and the condition of the people become more and more deteriorating. Laba said that the war of mischief is the reason for the decline in trust to the revolutionary movement of the people. Laba further appealed his fellow cadres to stand tight with their ideology and continue the struggle unless the goal is achieved.

Do you want judiciary to come to a grinding halt, SC asks Centre

New Delhi, Aug. 12: The Supreme Court on Friday asked the Narendra Modi government whether it is trying to bring the entire judicial institution to a "grinding halt" by sitting on recommendations of the Collegium for appointment and transfer of judges to High Courts across the country. Chief Justice of India T.S. Thakur made it clear to the Centre represented by Attorney-General Mukul Rohatgi that the apex court would be "forced" to judicially intervene and call for every file sent by the Collegium to the government for its clearance. Not satisfied by Mr. Rohatgi's repeated assurances to take it up at the "highest level", Mr. Thakur said "Don't force us to ask where the files are... don't force us to judicially intervene... don't try to bring this institution to a grinding halt... That's not the right thing to do." "We have a chart here detailing the list of Collegium recommendations for appointments and transfers. We can give it to you. There are 75 names of HC judges recommended by the Collegium. These include names for appointments and transfers of HC judges, including Chief Justices. There is nothing on them from your side so far," Chief Justice Thakur said. The government may be working on the draft Memorandum of Procedure for appointment of judges, but that did not give them the excuse to freeze appointments in the meanwhile. "If you have a problem with a name suggested by us, send the file back to us. We will look into it... This is some kind of a logjam and this whole situation is getting very difficult," Chief Justice Thakur said. The Bench, also comprising Justices A.M. Khanwilkar and D.Y. Chandrachud, pointed out to the government that "most HCs are working with only 40 per cent of their sanctioned strength and people are languishing in jails for 13 years for a hearing." "Will you wait till they complete a life sentence?" Chief Justice Thakur asked the government. Mr. Rohatgi sought some time to convey the court's message and seek instructions. Union Law Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad recently informed Parliament that the draft MoP for judicial appointments has been reverted to the Collegium. The Collegium had raised several objections to the government's earlier drafts, especially clauses saying that the government has the prerogative to drop a judicial candidate's name for reasons of national security despite the Collegium's reiteration. Courtesy The Hindu
