Polytechnic students vandalise College A- block; hang effigies of Edu Min & Principal

IT News
Imphal, Feb 1: Irate volunteers of Government Polytechnic Students' Union vandalized the administrative block and library of the Govt. Polytechnic College at around 11.30 am against the government failure to fulfill the demand. The students' union has been boycotting the college since January 30 demanding repairing of the college buildings which were affected during the January 4 earthquake. At around 10 am today the students of the college staged a sit-in-protest in front of the college gate and as tension raise among the student the students turn violent and started vandalizing the college properties. The student volunteers first close the main gate of the institute preventing people from entering the campus. At around 11:30 am student vandalized the administrative block and pelted stones destroying the glasses of the windows. Later, students destroyed the lock of the library main gate using hammer. The irate students later took their books and organized a rally to handover the books to education minister however the police prevented them at the front gate. The students then burnt their books at the gate. The students later hang the effigies of the College Principle Rk. Rajchandra and Education Minister M.Okendro at the main gate of the institution and raise slogans denouncing the negligence of the gov. to the demands of the students. It may be mentioned that since the January 4 earthquake which had damage the college building classes has remain suspended as the class rooms are risky for students. The principle of the college Rk. Rajchandra visited the spot however the student prevented him from entering the college campus. The principle had to return back as he could not bring any amicable solution to with the students. Speaking to media persons, the general secretary of the Students' Union Assem Prem Meitei said that representatives of the students had met the concerned minister of Higher and Technical Education Moirangthem Okendro and Principal and also submitted memorandum several times. He said the recent earthquake had damaged the main academic block. Since then classes of the institute has been facing acute shortage of classrooms and laboratories affecting normal classes, and temporary arrangements were made for classrooms, he added. The demands includes providing of class rooms of the polytechnic students by restoring the class rooms being occupied by the NIT and MIT, adequate supply of water and electricity and proper toilet facilities, he said.

New era dawns as Suu Kyi's party strides into Myanmar parliament

Naypyidaw, Feb 1: Myanmar entered its new political era Monday as Aung San Suu Kyi's pro-democracy MPs took their seats in parliament, carrying the hopes of a nation subjugated for decades by the military. Wearing orange uniforms, lawmakers from Suu Kyi's National League for Democracy (NLD) arrived for their first day of work in the capital Naypyidaw buoyed by a massive popular mandate from November's election. That poll saw the NLD wrest a majority from the army establishment and has spurred hopes of a new political dawn in the long repressed nation. Suu Kyi, the figurehead of Myanmar's struggle for democracy, entered the cavernous parliament building without making a comment. She took a seat alone for the short opening session which saw the lawmakers sworn in and the appointment of a close ally, Win Myint, as lower house speaker.

BJP has 'murdered democracy' in Arunachal: Congress

AN
New Delhi, Feb. 1: Congress leader Ghulam Nabi Azad on Monday alleged that the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has murdered democracy by recommending President's rule in Arunachal Pradesh. Azad, who is the Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha, alleged there is a huge difference between the Governor's rule in Jammu and Kashmir and Arunachal Pradesh. "Jammu and Kashmir got the Governor's rule in compulsion because no party was ready to form the government. But the Congress had two-third majority in Arunachal Pradesh. There (in Arunachal), the Bharatiya Janata Party itself created defection, created differences and after creating crisis, they declared a crisis situation and justified the Governor's rule," Azad said. "It was pure fraudulence and undemocratic. The BJP has murdered the democracy by imposing the Governor's rule," he added. The Supreme Court will today hear the petitions filed by the Congress Party challenging the imposition of President's rule in Arunachal. A five-judge bench headed by Justice J.S. Khehar had earlier on Wednesday posted the matter for today. The Centre had filed an affidavit in the Supreme Court on Friday to justify the imposition of President's rule. The affidavit, filed by Ministry of Home Affairs, claimed that there was complete breakdown of governance and law and order in the state. The Centre told the apex court that Arunachal Pradesh has been witness to recurrent insurgency as well as attempts by China to claims large parts of its territory. The affidavit also referred to six reports forwarded by the Governor to the President and to the Ministry, corroborating the reasons for proclamation of Emergency and maintaining that there was political instability in the state and a war-like situation. The affidavit was settled by Attorney General Mukul Rohatgi, who was asked by the five-judge constitution bench to respond to the petitions challenging the imposition of central rule. The petitions include the plea of Rajesh Tacho, the chief whip of Congress Legislature party in the state assembly which is now kept under suspended animation.

National integration tour flagged off

IT News
Imphal, Feb 1: 21 Assam Rifles of 28 Sector Assam Rifles under the aegis of HQ IGAR (South) organised a National Integration Tour from Sajik Tampak to New Delhi under Assam Rifles Military Civic Action programme for 20 farmers of Sajik Tampak, Chandel district (Manipur) from 01 to 12 February 2016. The tour has been organised to provide farmers with an opportunity to gain the knowledge about modern Indian agriculture system instead of the prevalent 'Jhum' cultivation which in addition to giving very low crop yields is also detrimental for the eco system. Towards achievement of the same, a special visit to PUSA Agricultural Institute New Delhi has been scheduled. In addition they will also visit historic places of the National capital like Red Fort, Rajghat, India Gate, Rashtrapati Bhawan and Qutub Minar. During the flag off ceremony, Commandant 21 Assam Rifles interacted with the farmers and thereafter flagged off the tour with suitable pomp and show which saw the National Integration Tour move off on a much awaited excursion and their first step to explore their motherland.

SC raps states for not implementing MGNREGA

Agency
New Delhi, Feb 1: The Supreme Court on Monday came down heavily on certain states for not implementing welfare legislation National Food Security Act, saying that why a state like Gujarat is not implementing the law passed by Parliament. "What is Parliament doing? Is Gujarat not a part of India? The Act says it extends to whole of India and Gujarat is not implementing it. Tomorrow somebody can say that it is not going to implement the CrPC, IPC and the Evidence Act," a bench headed by Justice Madan B

Lokur said. "Does Gujarat want to breakaway from India? How can a state say that it won't follow law passed by Parliament," the SC said. The bench also asked the Centre to collect and collate information from drought-hit states on the status of welfare schemes like MGNREGA, National Food Security and mid-day meal. It asked the Centre to file the affidavit by February 10 and posted the matter for further hearing two days thereafter. The apex court had on January 18 asked the Centre to give information about implementation of schemes under MGNREGA. Food Security Act and the mid-day meal schemes as to whether those affected were being provided the minimum required employment and food or not. The bench was hearing a PIL which alleged that parts of states like Uttar Pradesh, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Odisha, Jharkhand, Bihar, Haryana and Chattisgarh have been hit by drought and the authorities were not providing adequate relief. The PIL, filed by NGO Swaraj

Abhiyan run by persons like psephologist Yogendra Yadav, had sought implementation of the National Food Security Act which guarantees 5 kg of food grains per person per month. It also sought a direction to authorities that affected families be also given pulses and edible oils. The plea had said that school-going children be also given milk and eggs under the mid-day meal scheme. It had also sought adequate and timely compensation for crop loss and input subsidy for the next crop to the farmers affected by drought and subsidised cattle fodder for animals. The PIL, filed through advocate Prashant Bhushan, had alleged that the Centre and states "have been highly negligent in performing their obligations, causing enormous damage to the lives of the people due to their inaction, which is in contravention of the rights guaranteed under Articles 21 and 14 of the Constitution of India". The petition submitted that the drought has led to severe decline in farm employment available to the rural poor.
