DESAM demands CSOs, UG groups to stop disturbing educational atmosphere

IT News
Imphal, July 5: Democratic Students' Alliance of Manipur (DESAM) has observed 'disturbance free education zone demand day' today at different locations across the state. The main observance was held at Thoubal College, Thoubal with Keisham Meghachandra Singh, Parliamentary Secretary; Moirangthem Angamba Meitei, President of DESAM Head Office; Mayengbam Manilal Singh, ZEO/DPO Zone III Thoubal; Ksh Shamu Singh, ZEO Kakching Block; Dr Kharibam Meinodas Singh, Associate Professor, Department of Zoology, Thoubal College and others as chief guest, president and guests of honour respectively. Addressing at the gathering, Angamba said that the student body has been observing the disturbance free education zone demand day campaign since the year 2008. This year the day is being observed under the theme 'stop politics in education' across the state. He also observed that the deteriorating situation of education system in the state is due to the meanness of civil society organizations and utilizing students as tool to achieve their demand. On top of it, monetary demand by armed outfits also largely affected to the effort of bringing quality education. While the government is playing politics out of the wrong doings of the CSOs and armed outfits. This led to failure of implementing education policy. If all these unwanted interferences have been stopped, the education system in the state could be restoring and pave a way to bring quality education, Angamba said. He also appealed the CSOs and underground groups not to disturb the educational atmosphere in the state and make possible effort to concentrate students in their study. The observance was also marked at Multipurpose Hall of DM College here with J Joy, Secretary General of All Manipur Registered Private School Welfare Association; Salam Yaima Singh, Vice-Principal, DAV Public School, Sangakpam; Nameirakpam Edison Meitei, Secretary General, DESAM Head office, Professor, Ch Ibohah, Director of Center for Entrepreneurship and Skill Development, Manipur University and others as presidium members.

Veterinary Department highlights achievements and challenges

IT News
Imphal, July 5: The annual requirement of eggs in the state is 40 crore, however the production capacity of the state at present is only 11 crore while the deficit 29 crore were imported, an official of the Department of Veterinary and Animal Husbandry disclosed today during the media interaction program held at DIPR. The official further said that the shortage of the annual requirement is due to the constraint of poultry feed as the price of the product of vegetable required to prepare feed in the poultry farm are high compounded by the displacement of Central Poultry Farm of Matripukhri due to the ongoing construction works of secretariat complex. The official further said that the duty of Department of Veterinary and A.H. is to provide treatment to injured animals and birds however the department cannot provide treatment without the consent of the owners as it is possible to attract legal complications if the owners lodged complaints. They further explain that there are two check points of poultry products which are brought in through Mao and Moreh. However the department has not been able to properly check the poultry products which come from Moreh due to lack of proper international border fencing. The official also stated that the department has taken up 55 veterinary hospitals including 9 district veterinary hospitals, 109 Vety. Dispensaries and 34 veterinary aid centres and to have facilitated animal aids at door steps and the department has procured and distributed 9 ambulance vehicles and 15 motor bikes to all the districts and sub divisional veterinary hospitals.

SC refers to another bench plea against NEET Ordinance

PTI
New Delhi, July 5: The Supreme Court on Monday referred to another bench a plea seeking to quash of a recently promulgated ordinance which allows states to continue with their separate entrance tests for MBBS and BDS courses, besides uniform medical entrance test NEET for the academic year 2016-17. "This (plea) will go to the bench (headed by Justice AR Dave) which is hearing the related matter," a bench comprising Chief Justice TS Thakur and Justice DY Chandrachud said. The plea was filed in May end by Indore-based doctor Anand Rai who also claims to be a whistleblower in the Vyapam scam.

Besides seeking quashing of the ordinance which got Presidential assent on May 24, the plea has also sought a stay on its operation as an interim relief. Referring to Centre's stand to support the single-window National Eligibility and Entrance Test (NEET) for admissions, the plea said the government has now taken a "complete U-turn" which shows "malafides and ill intent towards the process of admission of students who shall suffer the most". "The normal democratic legislative process involves the people's representatives in the two Houses openly enacting a law after full consideration and discussion, an ordinance seeks to circumvent this procedure for it is drafted secretly in government chambers and is promulgated without an open discussion and hence it becomes even more pertinent that the ordinance-making power is not invoked lightly but only when absolutely necessary to do so, and the situation cannot be otherwise met effectively," it said. "The present ordinance is a completely contradictory stand by the respondent (Centre) within a span of 4 weeks, this is also a belated stage as the examination itself is to be scheduled within the next 8 weeks as per the Schedule given by the Respondent Union itself and the discriminating ordinance further creates confusion amongst students."

Power Minister Piyush Goel and Commerce Minister Nirmala Sitharaman will be elevated to the Cabinet. Ajay Tamta (Uttarakhand), Arjun Ram Meghwal (Rajasthan), Krishna Raj (UP), Athawale (Maharashtra), Ramesh C Jigajinagi (Karnataka) were among the dalit MPs administered the oath of Office and Secrecy by President Pranab Mukherjee at a ceremony in Rashtrapati Bhawan attended by Vice-President Hamid Ansari, Modi, his cabinet colleagues,

BJP President Amit Shah and leaders allied parties among others. No Congress leader was present. Others who were inducted included PP Chaudhary, C R Chaudhary (Rajasthan), A M Dave, Faggan Singh Kulaste (Madhya Pradesh), Mahendra Nath Pandey (UP), Purshotam Rupala, J Bhabhor and Mansukhbhai Mandaviya (Gujarat), Rajen Gohain (Assam) and S R Bhamre (Maharashtra). Akbar was elected recently to Rajya Sabha from Madhya Pradesh while Goel represents Rajasthan in the Upper House. Ahluwalia was elected to Lok Sabha from Darjiling while Anupriya Patel was elected from Mirzapur in UP. Those dropped from the ministry are Nihalchand, Ram Shankar Katheria, Sanwar Lal Jat, Manuskhbhai D Vasava and M K Kundiariya. All barring Goel and Faggan Kulaste are new faces while a few have been ministers in BJP-ruled state governments.
