Imphal, May 3: Reacting to various criticisms to the demand for Scheduled Tribe status, the Scheduled Tribe Demand Committee of Manipur today said that the main motive of demanding ST status for Meitei/Meitei is not to create enmity among the various communities of the state but it is to unite all communities of the state by keeping them in equal status.

In a press stamen, the committee said that the demand for ST status of that is being followed in other state like Assam or Nagaland. Human Rights Concerns of Tipaimukh Dam Project Raised

IT News

Imphal, May 3: A public consultation held today at the Manipur Press Club has drawn the attention of the National Human Rights Committee (NHRC) towards the human rights and environmental concerns of the controversial Tipaimukh Dam project proposed to be built over the Barak River.

"The Tipaimukh Dam project should not be built over the Barak River due to the enormous scale of impacts on the flora and fauna, natural heritages of Manipur and the threats to the livelihood, survival and human rights of the indigenous peoples depending on the Barak River," the consultation resolved.

The consultation was jointly organised by the Citizens' Concern for Dams and Development (CCDD), North East Dialogue Forum (NEDF), Centre for Research and Advocacy, Manipur (CRAM) and People Action for Development (PAD) under the theme, "Tipaimukh Dam and Indigenous Peoples Rights." Speaking on the occasion, environmental activist Jiten Yumnam stated that the detrimental and negative impact of the proposed Tipaimukh Dam project is huge as compared to the gains, and as such it is not a viable project. Joseph Hmar representing the All Tribal Students Union Manipur (ATSUM) and the Hmar Students Association (HSA) pointed out that even though the people have been objecting against the project, the government is still going ahead. As such the real motive behind the proposed dam is still not clear till date, he added. Majabung Gangmei of the Zeliangrong Baudi called upon all to know more about the project which is neither people-friendly nor eco-friendly, and protest together. Other resource persons including Ashen of People Action for Development (PAD), U. Nobokishore of NEDF and Phulindro Kansom of COHR also reiterated that there can be no Tipaimukh Dam without the free and prior informed consent of the people who are going to be affected.

The public consultation called upon the government to abide by the recommendations of the Forest Advisory Committee of the Ministry of Environment and Forest (MoEF) in its rejection of forest clearance for Tipaimukh Dam HEP project in July and August 2013, instead of the Environment Clearance given in October 2008.

It further urged that all MoUs signed between the Manipur Government with NEEPCO, NHPC and SJVNL, etc with regards to the project should be revoked and any negotiation between Bangladesh and India should not be held without the participation of the indigenous peoples of Manipur affected by the project.
