Need to bust the racket running inside MPSC

By:- Ch Bikram Singh
There is a racket suspected to be running inside the Manipur Public Service Commission (MPSC) which needs to be busted in no time. It will not also be difficult to bust the racket if the state Govt., has the will to do so as the racket seems to be confined within the examination section only. Their responsibilities are the conduct of examinations held periodically and carry out evaluation of the answer-scripts thereof, by engaging experts. Instead, they are creating series of room for favoritism and nepotism through manipulation of marks. As also clarified by the spokes-person of the aspirant candidates at the panel discussion of "Impact TV" and "ISTV" held on 3rd Aug' 2017 and 4th Aug' 2017 respectively, the role of the Chairman and Members of the commission over the conduct of an examination are very much limited as they remain quiet aloof from the day to day activities. The main responsibility lies with the controller of examinations and the examination section, under the supervision of the Secretary of the commission.

So, the first step for cleansing up should be hunting out the names of the responsible officers or staff working in the examination section whose family members, friends and relatives got top-most priority in every batch of selection. The 2nd step should be referring of the case to the police Dept., for booking those responsible officers and staff working in the examination section who possess disproportionate assets, as their ill-gotten wealth is presumed to be earned by way of manipulation carried out in the evaluation system. Unless the culprits are booked sooner or later, there is no future for the civil service aspirants of Manipur. Let us have a glance at the most glaring facts of the ill-fated combined civil services main examination 2016, conducted by the MPSC as detailed below:-
(1) Mr. Shyamal Pooniya, the previous secretary of the commission was acting both as "Secretary" and "Controller of examination" which created ample scope for manipulation in collusion with the officers and staff of the examination section:
(2) The final examination result was declared on 21st

Dec' 2016. Thereafter, the names of the successful candidates were recommended for appointment to the Govt., in the absence of the, Chairmen who has retired. Members whose terms have expired and the Secretary who was transferred to another dept. and
(3) The fact-finding committee constituted by the Hon'ble High Court Okayed their report over such a serious and sensitive matter on the mere plea of random checking, while RTI report of the answer-scripts that also was furnished reluctantly after 7 months on the direction of the State Commission highlighted severe manipulation, under-marking and tempering of marks which is vividly seen in the answer-scripts. Some vivid examples of manipulation are given below:-
(i) Overwriting and tempering of marks awarded by cutting the marks several times without putting the initials of the examiner, which a proper examiner should never do;
(ii) Marks are awarded on one-time, basis over split questions e.g. Question No. 1 (a) and 1 (b) carrying 30 marks each/- are awarded on one-time basis at the end of

Question No. 1 (b), which a proper examiner should never do;
(iii) Marks are awarded at the middle of the answer but, not at the end e.g. marks for an answer to a particular question covering 5 pages is awarded at the 3rd page, which a proper examiner should never do;
(iv) Marks for answer of questions for brilliant candidates over science subjects which may be compared to maths papers and deserving at least 80% marks are very much under-marked to the extent below 30%, which a proper examiner should never do;
(v) Signature of almost all the examiners are not regular and are suspected to be forged, faked and mis-matched, requiring comparison with the original signature records maintained by the MPSC;
(vi) In some cases, the answer-scripts bear no signature of the examiners and supervisors, needing review; and
(vii) There are gulps of differences in tabulation of marks e.g. the total mark in one particular geography paper of a candidate is shown as 32 only in the tabulation sheet while he actually got 129 marks. (Contd on page 2)
