

No fresh violence in Kohima as prohibitory orders continue

Kohima, Feb. 03: Prohibitory orders promulgated by the Kohima district administration under section 144 CrPc in certain areas continued to be in force with no reports of untoward incident on Friday, after a day of violent protests in parts of Nagaland. Prohibitory orders were in force in areas including Raj Bhavan, chief minister's official residence and civil secretariat. Nagaland director general of police L.L. Dougal said the Police, CRPF and Assam Rifles have secured the Raj Bhavan, Chief Minister's official residence and the Civil Secretariat. A mob went on a rampage yesterday to vent their anger against the killing of two protesting youths in police action on Tuesday and their opposition to the ongoing elections to urban local bodies.

Meanwhile, the Nagaland Tribes Action Committee (NTAC), representing different tribal organisations, has decided to proceed with the burial of the two bodies today. Earlier in the day the people from all walks of life participated in a peaceful prayer service in the heart of the state capital for the two protesting youths who were killed in police firing at Dimapur on Tuesday.

Maoist lambasts state govt. for not taking action against group responsible for killing workers

IT News

Imphal, Feb. 3: While condemning the silence of civil society and human rights organizations over the killing of two workers in the state by armed group ensuing suspension of operation, rebel group Maoist Communist Party Manipur today said that the state government is protecting the armed group involved in the killing of the two workers.

In a statement, the outfit said that even as two persons belonging to the outfit has been announced wanted, the group where they belong to is being let free without taking up any action. It said the other armed group ensuing SoO with the government who allegedly killed the two workers is also let free without taking up any action.

The statement further said that the state government has been blaming the center over its failure to act on the prolonged economic blockade as NSCN-IM is presently ensuing peace talk with the government of India. However, even after knowing that the killing of two workers is being taken place in the nose of the state government by a group ensuing SoO with the government of Manipur, no action has been taken place.

Te outfit appealed the people to award punishment to the group responsible for the killing of the workers.

Nagaland violence: Centre sensitive about North-East, says MoS Defence

ANI

New Delhi, Feb. 3: Asserting that the Centre is extremely sensitive about the security of the north-eastern states, Minister of State for Defence Subhash Bhamre on Friday said that the ruling dispensation has taken all steps to combat the ongoing violence in Kohima.

Retorting to the insurgence of violence in Nagaland's capital city, Bhamre said that the Centre has provided all arrangements to pacify the situation.

"We are well aware about the situation in the north-east, the Prime Minister and Defence Minister are very sensitive regarding all problems of the north-east whether it concerns the security of the north-east area, the border area as well as the overall developmental work of the north-east," Bhamre told ANI.

"So, we are well aware of that and we have taken due precaution and I assure from the Defence Ministry to the people of north-east that we are very sensitive about their security and we have provided all arrangements like the Army and the Air Force," he added. Echoing similar sentiments, Minister of State for Home Kiren Rijiju urged the agitators to make peace and share their grievances with the government.

"Have to save the Nagaland Chief Minister. We understand people's sentiments but it is not right to attack the Cabinet. I Appeal to people to talk to the government," tweeted Rijiju.

Curfew and Section 144 continues to remain imposed in Dimapur and Kohima districts after a clash between the state police and a mob broke out against the state government's decision to hold an election to urban local bodies (ULBs).

Y Erabot expressed concerned over tripartite talk

IT News

Imphal, Feb. 3: Former MLA of Wangkhei Assembly Constituency Yumkham Erabot has expressed concerned that there might be disruptions in the upcoming assembly election if the tripartite talk fails, which is going to begin from today. Speaking during election campaign rally held today at Wangkhei Assembly Constituency in connection with the upcoming 11th Manipur Legislative Assembly Election which falls March 4 and March 8 this year, Y Erabot said that the ongoing economic blockade is the second longest in the world. It is very unfortunate that the state government is blaming the centre rather than taking up necessary steps to end the so long economic blockade at the earliest, he added. Urging the state government to take full advantage of the tripartite talk, Y Erabot also said that the state government should give the main priority to their public which have been facing the huge impact of the ongoing indefinite blockade and should work on behalf of the public to end the issues.

Meanwhile, the tripartite talk with the centre, representatives of Manipur Government and UNC which will held today at New Delhi to resolve the issue of economic blockade by UNC has been convened by Union Home Ministry of India looking at the misery faced by the people of Manipur State due to the indefinite economic blockade which began from November 1 of 2016.

Mention may be that the economic blockade has led to the price hike of essential commodities, food items, daily needs and even limited stocks with unavailability of medical related items and materials in the market at current state.

Bike-borne assailants shoot at Bengaluru politician in open daylight

Bengaluru, Feb. 03: Two bike-borne assailants shot at Srinivas Kadabagere, the president of Agricultural Produce Marketing Committee (APMC), Bengaluru, on Friday afternoon, at Kogilu cross, on Ballary Road, leading to Kempegowda International Airport.

Initial reports suggest that while Srinivas was travelling in his official car, the attackers opened fire at him. A total of six rounds are said to have been fired, out of which two hit Srinivas.

Srinivas is currently undergoing treatment at a private hospital. The hospital is yet to provide a medical status to the police.

A team comprising senior officers, including city police commissioner Praveen Sood, are on the spot. Senior police officers said that PS Harsha, deputy commissioner of police, north-east has been given charge of investigation and some special teams have been formed to nab the attackers.

Army deployed in wake of violent protests over ongoing ULB elections in Nagaland

Kohima, Feb. 03: In Nagaland, five columns of army have been deployed in wake of anti-Urban Local Bodies poll agitation. Violent mobs went on the rampage in the state capital Kohima to vent their anger against ongoing elections to urban local bodies. The mobs vandalised and set on fire government offices and vehicles. Army sources said, five columns, each comprising between 50 and 70 personnel, have been pressed into service to contain the situation.

Activists of several tribal groups vandalised the State Election Commission and Deputy Commissioner's office and set ablaze the Kohima

Municipal Council building. Sources said, the Regional Transport office and that of the Excise Department were also set ablaze by violent mobs demanding the resignation of Chief Minister TR Zeliang and his entire cabinet for going ahead with the polls despite opposition from powerful tribal groups that are against 33 per cent reservation for women in the municipal bodies.

Meanwhile, Nagaland Chief Minister TR Zeliang has rejected the demand for his governments resignation following the death of two persons in anti-ULB poll agitation in Dimapur and appealed to the people to stop violence and not fall prey to rumour mongers.
