CorCom condemns atrocities to Kashmiri people

IT News
Imphal, May 25: Proscribed body CorCom – the conglomerate of 4 major rebel group of the region today said that the atrocities committed towards the people of WESEA and Kashmir under the mask of democracy is showing the true picture of colonial regime day after another. In a press statement, CorCom said that excess committed to the Indian Armed forces Occupying Kashmir by the neighbouring country has been argued as violation of the International law and Geneva Convention, however, peoples war against the colonial army with stones and bricks are subjugated by using human shield and is being justified. The statement said that tying of a Kashmiri youth identified as Farooq Ahmed Dar in front of an army vehicle by an Indian Army major to safeguard themselves from the attack of the crowd is being justified and Bipin Rawat praised the major as a courageous soldier. The kind of double standard talk by the Indian authority is condemn by CorCom in the strongest term. Use of human shield by Indian army is not new in the state of Manipur – reiterated CorCom. It said during Loktak Operation and at Khengjoi Battlefield and also at Dingpi operation the army used the villagers as their shield by forcing them to walk in front them. The statement further stated that during the last couple of years the Kashmiri movement for self determination and self rule has been suppressing by the Indian Army by killing, harassing and making them disappeared. On July 8 2016, one young commander of the Hizbul Mujahiddin identified as Burhan Wani and his 2 associates were mercilessly murdered and in the protest against the killing the Indian army had killed over 90 Kashmiri, the CorCom statement said. "Instead of suppressing the Kashmiri movement more and more educated youths had started joining the liberation movement" CorCom statement said. The conglomerate of the rebel group further said that the way that the india is trying to show the world that Kasmir belongs to India many killings has been taken place and the movement continue to raise which meant that Kashmir can never be claimed as the Indian territory, the statement added. The statement also stated that India has been talking of human rights of other country however it concealed the kind of atrocities committed to the people of the WASEA region. Army has been treated to be above the law of its land as the finding of the judicial commission over extra judicial killings and the recommendation made by the National Human Rights Commission remain of no use as army are above them. On the stand to the freedom movement of Kashmir, CorCom said that they support the Un Security Council resolution adopted on April 21, 1948 to hold plebiscite to decide on whether Kashmir remain with India or not.

Khaidem oil exploration venture dismissed

Northeast News Agency
Imphal, May 25: A public consultation on 'Oil Exploration in Manipur' here on Wednesday dismissed the major plan to allow oil drilling venture in Khaidem of Imphal West. Many social activists spoke on the potential impact of the oil exploration process being taken up in the village during the programme organised by various social organisations at Nupilan Complex. The organisations are saying no oil exploration in Manipur should be carried out in the area without seeking prior consent of the people, fearing its impact. They strongly dismissed the plan, saying details on Environment Impact Assessment and Social Impact Assessment should be provided to the people first before the exploration work takes place. Oil India Limited under the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas has awarded the contract to a private company Asian Oil Fields for the oil exploration venture at Khaidem. The seismic survey currently being carried out by the company at the village for the exploration is technically a preliminary stage, and that the actual oil drilling work is not likely to be carried out without conformity with the international rules and regulations, according to an expert. "The drilling work will not come next in line because exploration is a long process," Chanam KB, an expert in oilfield told Northeast News

Agency on Wednesday. He said the distressing emotion aroused by the 'potential impact' on the people due to the exploration work does not seem to have happened that way. "If the international norms are complied, the much-talked bad effect on the people and the surroundings of the oil exploration area does not seem to be causing," Chanam, a former Operation Manager of French company Schlumberger, observed. He said oil hydrocarbon exploration has been carrying out for a considerable long time throughout the world and that the chance of impact will be reduced to the smallest degree if all guidelines and terms and conditions are followed by the company in the venture.
