Mary Kom got the better of local star Diem Tri Tinh 4-1 in the 48kg category while Shiksha pummeled Ouyun Nergui of Mongolia 5-0 in the 54kg class. Mary, returning to the international circuit after more than a year's gap, did not show signs of any ring rust in her opening bout. She began on a cautious note, as both the boxers preferred to play the waiting game and maintained a safe distance from each other. It was in the second round that the Indian, a four-time Asian champion, upped the ante and landed crucial blows. She also displayed better reflexes which handed the initiative to her. In the final round, the Vietnamese tried her best to come back but Mary brought all her experience into play toward her off. "I might have been a little nervous initially. But once I stepped in to the ring, it was all gone. It was a good victory and a very sweet one too as I was making a comeback after a long time," the Manipuri pugilist said after the bout. Chinese Taipei's Meng-Chieh Ping in the quarterfinals and a win in that bout will assure her of her sixth medal in the Asian competition. Union Law Minister's remarks shameful: Popular Front

IT News
Imphal, Nov. 3: Popular Front of India Chairman E. Abubacker in a statement has said that the remarks made by Union Law Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad following the airing of an alleged sting operation by India Today are shameful and utterly unbecoming of his position as union minister. A statement by Popular Front of India, Manipur said that While the authenticity of the video is yet to be verified, the minister lost no time before publicly attacking Muslim organizations for forced conversions in Kerala. "A man of his position in Government does not need a hardly believable sting operation carried out by individuals with background in either professional or investigative journalism to investigate an organization like Popular Front. Such moves would only create the impression that the minister and government are so desperate for reasons to suppress organizations, that they don't even mind fabricating it by employing paid media persons and channels. Popular Front is and always has been an organization that stands by the constitutional values. Such videos actually are testimonies that there is nothing against us except fabricated evidence allegedly contained in the investigative reports doing the rounds now. We challenge minister Ravi Shankar Prasad and India today to publish complete unedited video if they have an iota of ethics left", the statement added.
