Favour early solution to Naga issue; should not hurt Manipur: N. Biren

PTI
Imphal, Oct 8: Manipur Chief Minister N Biren Singh has said that solution to the Naga issue should not disturb peace in his state, while maintaining that an early resolution of peace talks between the Centre and NSCN (IM) is desirable in the interest of the entire North-East region.
Asserting that any agreement on the Naga issue which hurts the interest of Manipur is unacceptable, Singh told PTI that there will not be any compromise on the matter. Large areas of the state are inhabited by Nagas.
"We want early resolution to any issue that affects the people. The same applies to the ongoing talks between Centre and NSCN (IM)," he said.

He was responding to a query on the state government's position on the framework agreement signed between the Centre and the National Socialist Council of Nagaland, Issac-Muivah group (NSCN-IM) in August 2015 to bring an end to India's longest running insurgency, which has so far failed to yield a final outcome.
Among others, NSCN (IM) has sought integration of Naga inhabited areas of the North-East and autonomy of the proposed region. The demand mostly affects Manipur as the state has vast areas inhabited by Nagas.

"As far as NSCN (IM) is concerned, Manipur government is not a party to the talks with the Centre... However, what we have asked the Centre is that whenever there is a discussion that involves interests of the state, then our views and consent should be taken. There cannot be any compromise on the interest of Manipur," Singh said.
He further said: "We have made it amply clear to the Centre that we don't have any problem with whatever solution that is arrived at, as long as it is confined to the territorial limits of Nagaland." Singh said even other states like Assam and Arunachal Pradesh which can also be affected were also in favour of resolving the Naga issue within Nagaland itself.

"I have been in touch with my counterparts of Assam and Arunachal Pradesh. We want a solution to the Naga issue at the earliest within Nagaland without disturbing others as it is in the interest of the people of the North-East," he added.
Asked about the possibility of Centre agreeing to demand of integration of Naga inhabited areas, he said: "I don't think the government of India would want a solution that is going to create greater chaos and a bigger problem in the region."

In case such a scenario were to arise, Singh said, "then the Manipur Assembly will take up the issue and take a resolution against any infringement on the territorial integrity of the state."
When asked about lifting of the contentious Armed Forces Special Powers Act (AFSPA) entirely from the state, Singh said his government has been working to improve law and order situation so that it could be removed in the long run.
"However, the current situation doesn't warrant lifting of the act entirely from the state. We are working to improve the situation. So, as and when it improves, we will work towards it (removing the act)," he said.

At present except for seven Assembly constituencies in Imphal valley, the act is in force in the rest of Manipur.
Human rights activists have been campaigning for removal of the act from the state as it gives armed forces extraordinary powers that includes immunity from legal action, and the licence to shoot and arrest people without obtaining warrants.

'Only independent Kangleipak can safeguard indigenous communities'

IT News
Imphal, Oct 8: Chairman of People's Revolutionary Party Of Kangleipak (Progressive) L. Paliba greets the people of the region on occasion of the outfit's Raising Day . The proscribed group is celebrating its 41st Raising Day on October 9.
In his message made available to media houses the chairman of the outfit said that North Eastern communities are endlessly being discriminated against by mainland Indians and various forms of criminal activities including murder are being perpetrated against the people of Northeast in Indian heartland. He also recalled on the mass exodus from many parts of Indian states because of atrocities and threats from many parts of India. The Chairman compare the mass exodus to that of the infamous mass exodus of India Pakistan partition.

"Even though many European thinkers and leaders forebode the balkanization of the so called unified India, Indian leaders are proud that the prediction did not come true as India is not breaking up, which successfully completed 70 years with the principle of Unity in Diversity. Nevertheless movement of the Maoist/ Naxalite in the backbone central states of India, Kashmiri people's movements are rising more and more, revolutionary struggle in WESEA regions are strengthening, even some states are demanding separate flags of their own. Indian leaders were frightened when C.N. Annadurai on May 1, 1962 demanded Self Determination for Dravidian South Indian, this demand compelled the government to make many strong amendments like the Sixteenth Amendment Act 1963 in Indian Constitution to make India unbreakable. "Determination in its Constitution? Do the Indian leaders have courage to implement the UN Resolution on Kashmir problem? Why didn't Indian Government respond to Plebiscite demand of UNLF (Manipur) in 2005? Even in the lone super power country USA; California, Texas and some states are demanding to secede from USA, Catalonia regional referendum to secede from Spain was held, even Scottish demand a second referendum for seceding from UK, so Indian leaders must understand these political events. India is a sub-continent, many independent nations, countries must be formed which would safeguard the different cultures, languages, religions and faiths, it should not be under one single government."

SC Verdict Tomorrow on Plea to Restore Ban on Firecracker Sale

Agency
New Delhi, Oct 8: The Supreme Court would pronounce on Monday its verdict on the issue whether firecrackers would be sold in the Delhi-National Capital Region (NCR) during the upcoming festive season of Diwali.
A bench headed by Justice AK Sikri had on October 6 reserved its order on a plea seeking restoration of the apex court's last year order banning the sale of firecrackers in Delhi-NCR.
The top court, through its November 11 order last year, had suspended all licences which "permit sale of fireworks, wholesale and retail within the territory of NCR".

Later, on September 12, the apex court had temporarily lifted its earlier order and permitted sale of firecrackers. During the hearing on the plea seeking restoration of last year's order, the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) had told the bench that they "support" the application.
Advocate Gopal Shankarnarayanan, appearing for petitioner Arjun Gopal, had contended before the court that ban on use of firecrackers should be restored as the NCR had witnessed a huge rise in air pollution during and after Diwali last year.

He had said that rise in air pollution during last Diwali was because of several reasons, including the extensive use of firecrackers. The counsel, appearing for the permanent licences selling crackers, had opposed the plea and said the September 12 order temporarily lifting the ban, was "well-reasoned" and passed after hearing all the parties, including the CPCB.
He had argued that all aspects raised by the petitioner were considered by the apex court while passing the order last month and though firecrackers impacted air quality, it was "not the greatest cause of particulate matter (PM) 2.5".

The apex court had last month temporarily lifted its earlier order suspending licences for sale of fire crackers, saying a complete ban would be an "extreme step" and a graded approach was needed to curb pollution caused by them.
The court, however, had said its order lifting the ban on sale of fire crackers might require a "review" after Diwali depending on the ambient air quality after the festival.
