

CorCom pays revolutionary salute to Haipou Jadonang

IT News
Imphal, Aug 28,

Common body of major rebel groups of the region CorCom pays revolutionary salute Haipou Jadonang on his 88th Death Anniversary to be observed on August 29. Haipou Jadonang is a leader who fought against the British Empire for the freedom of the nation, the statement issued by media coordinator, M. Sakhen said. It stated that the war for self determination waged by leader, Jadonang against the colonial rule has become greatly relevant today. The supreme sacrifice he gave on August 29, 1931 for his motherland has now become an event of extreme importance to the present and upcoming generations of today, it said. After Kangliepak (Manipur) was colonised by the British Empire in 1891 at the dawn of 20th century, Haipou Jadonang was born in 1905 at Kambiron village in Tamenglong as a child of 'Thiudai' and 'Tabonliu.' Since his childhood, he has been a brave individual who had love and affection for his motherland, it said. At that time, Jadonang resolved to fight against the system introduced by British for making the villagers used as labour by the state officials during their trip and taxation imposed against them, it further said. His rebellion against the British ignited the movement for self determination amongst the people to fight for independence from the colonial rule. Also, he believed that by preserving the indigenous culture and tradition of the people, it could be the key to expose the hidden agenda of the colonial government, and protect the people as well, it said. His movement for self determination constantly disrupted the plans and efforts of the British colonisers. This made the British officials to scheme for a plan to eliminate him forever. In February 19, 1928, Jadonang was arrested from Binakandi, Cachar. The political agent of that time J.C. Higgins took the role of both the prosecutor and judge, and charged IPC Section 302/109 and 320/149 to Jadonang and the trial was undertaken against him, it said. In such a haste manner, Jadonang, who was merely 26 at that time, was hanged near the bank of Nambul River on the backside of Imphal Central

Jail on August 29, 1931, it added. Had Jadonang was kept alive, he would have lived as a true leader and the movement for self determination would have directed towards a different chapter in history for Zeliangrong Community and Manipur in general, it said. However, the movement against colonial rule ignited by Jadonang still continues today by the present generation, it stated. On the 88th Death Anniversary of Haipou Jadonang, the people of Zeliangrong community and Manipur not only should pay their respects to him but it will truly become meaningful if both the people of the hills and the valley can become united and give efforts towards waging a stronger battle for the war of self determination, it added.

AAPSU demands central pool MBBS/BDS quota seats for aspirants in state

Agency
Itanagar August 28,

In Arunachal Pradesh, an allocation of central pool MBBS/BDS quota seats to the people of the state has been demanded by the All Arunachal Pradesh Students' Union (AAPSU) for the academic session of 2019-20. The students' union, while expressing resentment towards the union health & family welfare ministry for discontinuing the allocation of MBBS/BDS quota seats, said that lives and career of many young aspirants are at stake and the union ministry matter should take the matter seriously. The AAPSU also urged the state government and the state's MPs to immediately take up the matter with the central government. Earlier, in a press release, the union minister stated that this (discontinuation of quota seats) has been done despite repeated demands for increasing the total seats in the TRIHMS from 50 to 100. It stated that although 15 percent of the total seats are provided under the all-India quota in the TRIHMS, out of the total 50 seats, the remaining seats have not been sufficient enough to accommodate the young medical aspirants from the state. Further, interested students who have secured more than the qualifying marks in the NEET exams are not getting medical quota seats in medical colleges of other states, it said. It demanded that the total number of seats in the TRIHMS also be subsequently increased from 50 to 100.

Gold, silver ornaments missing from TTD treasury

Agency
Tirupati, Aug 28,

Some gold and silver ornaments allegedly went missing from the treasury of the Tirumala temple, which led to the temple authorities so far recovering Rs 2.25 lakh from an official held responsible for the loss. A five-kg silver crown and two gold items were reported to have gone missing from the treasury of the temple about two years ago but the incident came to light on Tuesday after a section of TTD employees took exception to only one official being held responsible for the incident. Tirupati Devasthanam (TTD), which manages the affairs of the world's richest Hindu temple, meanwhile, assured devotees that their contributions are safe. TTD Executive Officer Anil Kumar Singhal said all precautions and vigilant steps were taken by the TTD in the preservation of devotees' contributions of gold and silver ornaments and others with proper documentation in the treasury. He denied reports of laxity and carelessness in preserving the devotees' contributions and said stringent action was taken against erring officials, if any. He said all the devotees' contributions were safely and systematically brought to the treasury of TTD administrative building where an Assistant Executive Officer rank official records them and keep the ornaments in lockers. "In the event of a transfer of the officials, there would be a total inspection of all items in the presence of outgoing, and incoming officials in the presence of Vigilance, the Deputy Executive Officer concerned and accounts officials," he said. AEO M. Srinivasulu had personally reported some shortages of ornaments worth totalling of Rs 7,36,375 as per certification of October 10, 2017, and also some additions. Among the excess items were some gold and silver ornaments, precious stones, and gold plated jewels. The EO said after investigations, Srinivasulu was held responsible for the shortfall in the ornaments and at the rate of Rs 25,000 per month, an amount of Rs 2.25 lakh has so far been recovered from him. He said on the appeal of the said AEO, the TTD has agreed to undertake certification once again in September next when the shortages could become more transparent. The EO said in the event if the alleged shortlisted items were not found, the TTD would take action for the full recovery of the total amount and also initiate departmental disciplinary proceedings as well against Srinivasulu.
