CAB row: Tripura plunges into chaos, violence reported in various districts

Agency
Ghy, Dec 10

Hours after the Lok Sabha passed the Citizenship Amendment Bill, 2019 amid protests, Tripura plunged into chaos with protests turning violent. Reports are coming in that the issue has taken a communal turn with over 4000 people being attacked and beaten up. Violence broke out in Karamcherra in Dhalai district since the wee hours of Tuesday, hours after the CAB was passed. Tension is running high amongst communities and violence has also been reported in some parts of the city and Kanchanpur. Tripura came to a standstill since Monday with the announcement of 50 hours bandh and strikes by various organisations. Along with Tripura, other states of Northeast like Assam and Meghalaya has been witnessing ongoing protests with stray incidents being reported from different parts of the states. Streets of Northeast wore a deserted look on Tuesday due to the bandh called by the North East Social Organisations (NESO) in protest against the bill. The CAB 2019 was passed at the stroke of midnight after hours of debate in the Lok Sabha with 311 members voting in favour of the bill including regional MPs from the Northeast. Meanwhile, 80 MPs voted against the bill. On the other hand Assam police today arrested some members of the All Assam Students' Union (AASU), Karbi Anglong unit for protesting and displaying black flags during the visit of Finance Minister, Himanta Biswa Sarma to Diphu Medical College here today.

Since Monday, anti-Citizenship Amendment Bill protestors in Assam have been holding protest marches to oppose the bill, which was passed by the Lok Sabha at midnight. The arrested protestors were later taken to Diphu police station. The entire northeast wears a deserted look in view of the bandh called by various social organisations in protest against the CAB. Stray incidents and violence were reported from Meghalaya and Tripura with situation remaining tensed.

NHRC notices to Tripura police over sexual assault and death of a minor girl

By Raju Vernekar
New Delhi, Dec 10

While the recent Unnao and Telangana rape incidents have stirred the country, the National Human Rights Commission of India (NHRC), has issued notices to the Chief Secretary and the Director General of Police, Tripura, calling for a detailed report in the matter of sexual assault and subsequent death of a minor girl after she was set on fire by her tormentor, in Agartala district of Tripura. The Commission has called for a detailed report in the matter within four weeks including status of the investigation and any relief granted to the next of kin of the deceased. The Commission has observed that though it is not mentioned in the media reports that whether the aggrieved family or the victim had approached the police with their complaint, the death of a minor girl as a result of a barbaric act done by the accused is a matter of concern. Reiterating its displeasure towards increasing incidents of sexual assault of women across the country, the Commission has said that it is awaiting reports from all the states and Union Territories including Union Ministry of Women and

Child Development in the matter. According to the reports, on 28 October, 2019, the victim was kidnapped by the accused from her residence and was subjected to sexual abuse. Later, the accused raised a demand of Rs. 5 Lakhs in lieu of solemnizing marriage with the victim. Some amount of money was reportedly paid by the victim's family and there was a dispute between the family and the accused for the remaining money. Subsequently the accused and his mother were arrested by the police. (Contd. on Page 2)
