PPFA urges Centre to support 1951 as cut-off year

By Our Correspondent
Guwahati, Jan. 12

Expressing grave concern over the turbulent situation in Assam's Brahmaputra valley along with some parts of Northeast India, Patriotic People's Front Assam (PPFA) yesterday urged the government to reassure local people that the region would not be adversely affected by the citizenship law amendment initiatives undertaken by the Union government in New Delhi. At the same time, the forum of nationalists called upon the Centre to review the cut-off year for identification of illegal migrants in Assam from 1971 (25th of March) to 1951. A nation cannot have two separate cut-off years — with one cut-off year meant specifically for one State, viz. Assam — to detect illegal foreigners in the country. "If the all-India cut-off year identifies a huge number of illegal Bangladeshi (also East Pakistani) citizens taking shelter in Assam, the government must consider on a specific arrangement to deport them to their country of origin. Otherwise the government should actively think about offering work permits (without voting rights) to those nationals," said a PPFA statement issued to the media. Challenging the 1971 cut-off year, at least one Assam-based organization (Asom Sanmilita Mahasangha) has approached the Supreme Court and the case is still pending. Few other organizations including Prabhan Virodhi Mancha and some political leaders have also raised voices against the 1971 cut-off year, agreed to in the Assam Accord, which was signed by agitating groups spearheading the historic Assam Movement (1979 to 1985). "We want the apex court to settle the matter so that the issue can be resolved for good. Otherwise, we will not mind if the cut-off year to detect illegal migrants in the entire country is amended to 25 March, 1971," said the PPFA statement, adding that such a move would reassure the people of Assam that as the world's largest democracy, India does not differentiate between her own people by having two cut-off dates for determining citizenship.

Maoist warns Media advisor to CM

IT News
Imphal, Jan 12

In a press released by Coordinator, Standing Committee of Maoist Communist Party Manipur Kyonghan Mangang said that it is a big hoax to the people of the state where some media affirm that the visit of Chief Minister of Manipur at Delhi is to discuss issues against the Citizen Amendment Bill 2016 on the contrary he was just visiting the National Council Meeting of his BJP party held at Ramnala Maidan. The BJP government showed its high headedness attitude by playing with the minds of people and misinforming the general public by certain media where he did not went for the welfare of the people but only for its party meeting to plan for the upcoming election, it added. He said that the misinformation spread in the media regarding Chief Minister's visit in Delhi is a vivid example of misleading the editors by the media advisor of Chief Minister. The Maoist Communist Party Manipur warns the media advisor of CM and said that they will not just watch if he continues to mislead the editors of Manipur by taking advantage of being an editor earlier. He also added that the credibility of the Media society of Manipur will diminish if the Media Advisor of the CM continues to mislead by informing with false news. The press statement said that the people should not take it lightly where the CM just left irresponsibly leaving behind all the burning issues of the North-East just to attend its National Council Meeting. The Chief Minister, Deputy Chief Minister and many of its MLAs and minister were all out of station just to take part in the meeting leaving the people at stake. The BJP led government and all its ministers consider the meeting to be more important than the interest of the people. Kyonghan inform the people to know how much the government with its publicity stunt through media spread lies to the public. So the Maoist Communist party will take a big responsibility to wipe out a party like BJP who doesn't even know the sentiments and also a party who doesn't think for welfare of the people. He also appealed to the people of Manipur to take decisions to wipe out BJP. Finally Maoist Communist Party Manipur appeals to all the people related, to not lead the media community mislead by the media advisor of CM.
