New Delhi, Nov 9

Supreme Court of India has pronounced its historic verdict on Ayodhya land dispute case today. The SC granted the entire 2.77 acre of disputed land in Ayodhya to deity Ram Lalla and has directed the Centre and Uttar Pradesh government to allot an alternative 5 acre land to the Muslims at a prominent place to build a mosque.

The court also asked Centre to consider granting some kind of representation to Nirmohi Akhara in setting up of trust. Nirmohi Akhara was the third party in the Ayodhya dispute and dismissed the plea of Nirmohi Akhara, which was seeking control of the entire disputed land, saying they are the custodian of the land.

The Court has directed the Union government to set up a trust in 3 months for the construction of the Ram mandir at the disputed site where Babri Masjid was demolished in 1992.

The Supreme Court said the underlying structure below the disputed site at Ayodhya was not an Islamic structure, but the ASI has not established whether a temple was demolished to build a mosque. The court also said that the Hindus consider the disputed site as the birthplace of Lord Ram while the Muslims also say the same about the Babri Masjid site. It added that the faith of the Hindus that Lord Ram was born at the disputed site where the Babri Masjid once stood cannot be disputed it however said that the 1992 demolition of the 16th century Babri Masjid mosque was a violation of law.

While reading out its judgment, the Supreme Court said that the UP Sunni Central Waqf Board has failed to establish its case in Ayodhya dispute case and Hindus have established their case that they were in possession of outer courtyard of the disputed site. Terming the verdict as landmark, Prime Minister Narendra Modi in his message said the decision should not be taken as a victory or defeat of anyone. He appealed the people to maintain peace, harmony and unity. He stated that this decision of the Supreme Court is important for several reasons as it shows the importance of following the legal process in resolving a dispute.

Prime Minister said each side was given enough time and opportunity to present its arguments and the Supreme Court resolved the decades-old case amicably. Mr Modi added that this decision will further strengthen the confidence of the common man in the judicial process.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah also welcomed the Supreme Court's unanimous decision on Shri Ram Janmabhoomi. In a tweet, Mr Shah appealed people of all communities and religions to accept the decision with ease and remain committed to peace and harmony and to the pledge of 'Ek Bharat, Shreshtha Bharat'.

Rise above everything to come together as one to support God-given opportunity of a lifetime for the Naga political settlement: Nuklutoshi

NEPS
Kohima, Nov 9

Former Nagaland Minister Nuklutoshi said the present young Naga minds were that their Naga national workers, who were presently engaged in finding a settlement to the protracted Naga political issue, must now "fully concentrate and strive for the much anticipated political settlement at the earliest possible time."

In a statement issued on Friday, the former Minister said the "21st Century Naga generation is grateful to all our past and present Naga national workers and are deeply indebted to them for all the sacrifices they have made for the Nagas." The upcoming Naga generation also highly appreciated their "freedom fighters" stand on the issue of sovereignty, but they are satisfied with what has been achieved thus far," he said and further remarked those chapters would now be in the "Annals of Naga history and will be remembered and cherished for all time to come." Nuklutoshi passionately made it clear that the "new generation cannot wait anymore for that elusive political settlement to materialize," because, "only when it does come, it will usher in a new dawn of emancipation in every sphere of life in the Naga society which is in shambles today."

"Our economy is in a status of misery and tens of thousands of highly educated, competent Naga youths are unemployed. They are restless and often directionless like a boat tossed on a stormy sea. Empty stomachs lead to insatiable hunger which in turn leads to deep anger and resentment," he said. As such, looking at the present scenario of the Naga society, their Naga national workers must ponder over it and go for the "political settlement without further delay."

At the same time, the Naga national workers must realize that whatever they had achieved "at this juncture in their lifetime, will be appreciated and acknowledged by the Nagas, especially the upcoming generation who understands and sincerely wants our national workers to retire honorably with the political settlement that is being offered now by the Government of India," he added.

Nuklutoshi believed that the new generation knew their national workers had "never compromised on sovereignty at any given time or situation whatsoever." And "come what may, no generation of Naga people will ever give up our right to be sovereign as it is God-given (one)," he said.

The former Minister further reminded that the young Nagas seriously wanted that the Naga national workers to bring the political settlement to fruition. "If it (settlement) is delayed any further, the restless upcoming generation of Nagas may hold it against them," he warned. Besides the sacrifices and tremendous efforts made for so many years by their national workers "may all go in vain if this golden opportunity is missed," he added.

Nuklutoshi also called upon the Naga society, all the stakeholders, the Naga intellectuals, Church bodies, Hohos, NGOs, Student organizations, politicians cutting across the party lines, Mother's organizations and all Nagas in the cities, towns and villages to rise above everything and come together as "one to support this God-given opportunity of a lifetime for the Naga political settlement."

In conclusion, quoting a passage from the Bible - "There is a season and a time for any purpose under the Heaven," the former Minister said, "If we miss the bus again due to avoidable petty misunderstandings and squabbles among us, then it will be another long struggle through uncertain times that may stretch to years and years of anguish blood and tears for everyone."
