A moment of Introspection

It's true when someone says that we should keep our expectations for all in life to be low, but nevertheless, nowadays we are seeing that people are not showing much gratitude.

So this time I've come upon the description of a woman who is ready to help others and see the difference and introspection at every moment. There is some of you I hope will change the whole perception of what is happiness and it's true meaning.

So here we go young guns!

Food wastage is a major problem in India

By: Vinod Chandrashekhar Dixit

Food wastage is a major problem in India. In Wednesdays, can-ters, hotels and households spend so much on food to reach the extent of damage, all you have to do is to check in the corner garbage bin. People do not even realize how much food they have wasted on the food on their table. Today, most of us don’t even spare a thought about how much food we are wasting and the resources it takes to produce our food. The food that we consume, but not eaten, occupies a close to 30 per cent of the world’s agricultural land. It is estimated that every year over 1.3 billion tons of food gets bought and more than 26,000 children under the age of five die from hunger. To be fair, food waste is not the only thing a food government study had found that the country wastes Rs 6.52 crore worth or 67 million tonnes of food in a year. Efforts need to be taken to protect and preserve food from the benefit of the large number of poor in our society who are struggling to survive on a single meal a day.

Though our people rarely waste much food in restaurants, we as a nation waste a lot of food during marriages. Festivals and other occasions without caring about the large percentage of people who go hungry each day. The levels of poverty, hunger and deprivation have been increased, of course, the country, the world, everybody wants the compensation they deserve. But, this is not the way generation, our country due to lack of storage facilities was saved, the burden of the foodgrain in the rotting of good grain. If only the foodgrain wasted in the well-to-do citizens and the politicians of our country. The condition of the godowns in the country is not good and that is resulting in the loss of good food and it is safe. In our country due to lack of storage facilities was saved, the burden of the foodgrain to the extent of damage, all you have to do is to check in the corner garbage bin.

It is time to take note of the obligation of every citizen of this country to ensure that the food we are using is not thrown down. The touched food left in the mess is eaten by the people of mess but the food left in the plates goes wasted and is served to cattle near the campus. contd. on page 3

If you are ready to be grateful! and if you assure you all the little things will make you happy and see the difference, the way things look, just look at the mirror. So why people and those little things that matter to you, you’ll live the life of your dreams. The people around you, the way the world looks, you should not cry for them.

And at the end do ask yourself “Are you ready to be grateful!” and if you assure you all the little things will make you happy and see the difference, the way the world looks, you should not cry for them.
