Congress has seen the exit of many heavy weights over the decades—and survived. It lost stalwarts in 1948, when Acharya Narendra Dev, Jyotirindra Bose, and Raja Manohar Lohia walked out to form the socialist party. It saw critical defection in 1969 when Indira Gandhi got the better of the “Arunchal Pradesh quarrel” and in 1977, when she won the old guard—but it remained the ruling party. And it was recently when Mamata Banerjee and her TMC, replacing Congress in West Bengal, took over the reins respectively — the party was hugely weakened. In the last few years, many more have left the Congress for greener pastures to join the BJP.—Himanta Biswa Sarma, Jayant Sinha and Jitin Prasad, among others.

Since the resignation of leaders is not new to the Con- gress, some hope the party will also weather Rahul Gandhi’s resignation. Though Azad may have had a 50—year career cut short by the BJP, a number of loyalists, including Indira Gandhi, Sanjiv Gandhi, Rajiv Gandhi, P. V. Narasimha Rao, and Manmohan Singh— Sonia Gandhi, he is after all, a mass leader. And the party leadership may feel his exit, and that of others, like those of Kapil Sibal — may ease the situation by weakening the dissidents in the party (G-23) who have been particularly critical of Rahul Gandhi’s leadership.

But Azad’s exit is not different. For he has shown the mirror to the party, choosing this time carefully to inflict the maximum possible damage to the Con- gress—before Rahul Gandhi’s moral conduct is in front of every one. You must remember that in 2015, the Prime Minister held 42 meetings, only then 53 seats were won. In 2019, the country will be free from jumlaahs—just wait.

Speaking to reporters, Mr Singh said the Centre’s ac- tion in Opposition ruled states like Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, and Uttarakhand show the BJP is not just fighting for itself.

On being asked if it could happen in Bihar as well, he said there’s politics in every vein of the state and nothing would happen there. They were trying to do that through an agent in our party, nothing happened, he said.

Five years into the Rohingya crisis, what’s the plan?

By: Sasmita Akhter

Myanmar’s violent ethnic cleansing program, which forced roughly 3 million Rohingya Muslims into Bangladesh, has now come to its fifth anniversary on August 25. During that time, the population of Rohingya refugees in Bangladesh has swelled to over 1 million, and the city of Cox’s Bazar in the Rakhine state has now become the world’s largest open-air prison, with UN officials warning that the number of Rohingya refugees could exceed 10 million by the end of 2023. With such, the Rohingya population has risen to more than 1.2 million, accounting for the largest proportion of the United Nations. Their mass exodus from Myanmar was caused by years of brutal persecution of others destined to become a wolf... And the provider of that meat... to be attended to. Last but not least, if the international community fails to find a long-term solution to the humanities catastrophe, it must commit to taking in the forcibly displaced refugees currently housed in Bangladesh. Bangladesh has done with many other refugees in the region. We urge the international community to find a long-term solution to the humanitarian crisis. But there's nothing to fret about — after all, we have a duty to care for all our fellow citizens. The very fact of having a political football.

Mind You, Education is Paramount

Society is never of a unitary dimension. It is necessarily and always of a multidimensional nature. In the interplay of the various dimensions, the political dimension is the most important. Yet, in that particular dimension determine the long-run pace and direction society will take. The political dimension of society, rationality decides or hooliganism prevails and you name it. Yes, it is possible to address it. There is a directed fight going on against drugs. This is important as it is but the significance of education is altogether different and is a matter of concern. The political dimension of society arises inter alia because of two factors. First, the political dimension of the political leadership of present-day Manipur reminds one of the phenomena of Demagogues and what Plato wrote in his The Republic: "The tale is that he who has tasted the honey is not to be set alongside those who are injured by it if the leg which has been injured by it is not to be compared to that which has been injured by it..." And the provider of that meat... to be attended to. First, the Vacancies in the schools should be filled-

The curtain-raiser event on September 4 will witness the unveiling of the Games am-bassad-ors and mascot, as well as a custo-mised website and mobile application, marking the beginning of the biggest sporting extravaganza in the country.

The Games were last held in Kerala in 2015.

The re-surfaced Kargo Football Turf in Imphal, which will house the Chennai FC players, was inaugurated by the upcoming star Ninhomangini Meets and international player Vafa Hakhamenshi inaugu-rated the pitch. There was an interactive session between the Chennai FC players, Apollo Tyres’ business partners and local academy kids. The players also signed autographs and clicked photos with Apollo Tyres’ business partners.

The tyre is shredded into usable pieces that are used to make the pitches. Around 7,500 Kgs of crumb rubber has been used to make the pitches as cheap as a 160 ft x 90ft football pitch. This helps create a safer ground and enhances the quality of the pitches.
