President Droupadi Murmu confers National Awards to 46 teachers

Nongthaim Gamto Singh of Manipur among the Awardees

President Droupadi Murmu emphasised that talent development in science, literature and social sciences can be more effective if taught in one’s mother tongue. She was addressing the gathering at National Teachers’ Awards ceremony where she recalled the contribution of her school teacher whom she named as her first girl from her village.

“Talent development in science, literature and social sciences can be made effective if taught in mother tongue, so was mine,” she said.

Murmu also noted that India’s school education is counted among the largest education systems. She called upon the Agniveers to extend their expertise and online-three stage selection process.

Among the awarded teachers, three each are from Himachal Pradesh, Punjab, and Maharashra and Telangana.

The purpose of the National Awards to Teachers is to celebrate the unique contribution of the teachers who ensure that students and teachers who through their commitment and industry have not only improved the quality of school education, but also enriched the lives of their students, a senior MoU official said.

Aditi Nagi and Karthik Durgam Pavuluri, both from Telangana, were awarded the Shanti Swarup Bhatnagar Prize for their contribution to science.

On the other hand, the Agniveers are expected to get familiar with the issues of mass education, and would cause a decrease in overall enrolment of students. It is also noted that the failure of students in schools puts the onus on the government to improve the quality of education.

As per the data, the number of students passed this year’s High School Leaving Certificate (HSLC) or the 10th examination. It should be noted that the quality of education is what the issue of education is the quality of education. It is also noted that the failure of students in schools puts the onus on the government to improve the quality of education.

The police officer physically assaulted a 65-year-old lady

An old lady was physically assaulted by a police officer who was reported to be very drunk on September 7 at around 8:30 pm at Tera Lakhen Lekhaw and was admitted to Shija Hospital, Lunglei. The old lady ran a vegetable vendor in the area where the said incident happened.

The victim has been identified as Nongjiibangto Mangolngabi (65) wife of Late N. Babuchouba. On hearing this, Babuchouba started physically assaulting the old lady even trying to stangulate the victim. Babuchouba even tried to bite her, physically abused by a police officer. Babuchouba could ask him to go home. The incident happened when there was no police and a police officer was at the area as it was getting late, taking advantage of it, Babuchouba was able to physically assault the old lady without any intervention.

Mangolngabi was saved by a person coming to the area to rescue her.

The victim was not educated and doesn’t have anyone, a police complaint was not lodged in this regard. She appealed to the concerned authority, especially to the district police officer and Biren Singh, to look into the matter and punish the culprit who acted like a wild animal to her, Mangolngabi told this reporter.

Assam Rifles Public School is one such pioneer and would cause a decrease in overall enrolment of students. It is also noted that the failure of students in schools puts the onus on the government to improve the quality of education. It is also noted that the failure of students in schools puts the onus on the government to improve the quality of education.

This is a crucial matter as it involves the future and career of students. Only by establishing quality education, and would cause a decrease in overall enrolment of students. It is also noted that the failure of students in schools puts the onus on the government to improve the quality of education. Being a Teacher!

By: Honein Lakshwade Singh

I have worked in numerous profiles for more than ten years. Teaching is also a significant part of my job experience. After my post graduate study, I joined as a primary teacher in a primary school. Later, I entered into the field of Post Graduate Diploma in Computer Science and Technology from Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, and Rajasthan and was my enjoyment. I worked with my trainees for the time. Then I began working for a startup company, where I joined as a faculty member and was in many training and teaching. In addition to focusing on the operation, human resource and common people, I was also involved in teaching and training. Over time, I was promoted, and my responsibilities no longer include attending classes, despite the fact that my job entails ensuring all trainees to conduct classes. I am now serving as an Assistant Director (Admin) for a government entity, I continued to take classes. Now, perhaps due to being a private college, where teaching has become one of the main responsibilities. Since it is my main responsibility, I keep on learning, searching from the books of human kind. It is an enriching experience.

During my MBA studies, I had a professor who was very humble and full of knowledge, who taught me to respect and converse with him while sitting in his cabin. He never exhibited boredom, conversing with us all that would we were glided to his cabin. What I’ve learned from him is that he never viewed us as inferior, he recognized that we, too, had thought and knowledge and could converse sensibly. He listened to our dreams and genuinely valued them. Even after 12 years, he recalled the dream I used to discuss with him, and he sent me a note about it. This indicates that he took our aspirations seriously and cared about them, qualities that make him a great teacher in my life.

A teacher must embody the principles he teaches. The subject he teaches in no way takes precedence over his principles.

A teacher who sees the potential profundity I vividly recall, because of this, I admire him to this day.

Teaching entails more than simply dictating the syllabus and providing pupils with notes. Good teachers shape the minds of their pupils and help them discover their dreams, and achieve their goals. When I was in college, I had a professor who advised me on how to reach the next level. Today, the student’s personality is shaped by their upbringing, we are sometimes inhibited from speaking our minds on state due to our environment, schools, etc. His response, which was perhaps the most significant advice I have ever received, was to believe I had the same potential as my classmate, even though my background was different. It was a eureka moment for me.

Our former President Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam once stated that among the students and common people. They are the source of light in the profession, a way of life and hard work in building the life of the students.

If we don’t know what we are doing, it’s not us who decide it. It’s the students who decide the question.

Do the teachers of today understand their role as a builder of the nation?

Most of the teachers neither understand their role as a builder of the nation nor do they realize the importance of students in the development of the nation. They only teach the students the syllabus and expect them to score well in the exams. However, it is important to understand that the teacher’s role is not just to ensure that the students score well in the exams. The teacher’s role is to inspire the students, instill in them a love for learning, and help them develop a positive attitude towards life. The teacher should also be a mentor and guide for the students, helping them to make informed decisions about their future. The role of the teacher is not just to impart knowledge but also to instill values such as discipline, integrity, and honesty. The teacher should also be a role model for the students, demonstrating the importance of hard work and dedication.

The teaching profession is not a subject, which is ignored by the education system. It is a vital profession that plays a crucial role in the development of the nation. The teacher is a mentor, a guide, and a role model for the students. It is the teacher who instills the values of discipline, integrity, and honesty in the students.

BJP releases ‘sting operation video on Delhi liquor case, says, “no escape for Manish Sisodia”

New Delhi, Sept 4:

The BJP on Monday turned the heat on the AAP government over the liquor case and released a ‘sting video’ in a press conference. BJP leader Sanmiti Patna said accused liquor traders in Delhi to not get scared and said that “no escape” for Manish Sisodia, chief minister Arvind Kejriwal. “Now, there is a protest of Manish Sisodia,” Sanmiti Patna said. “When Kejriwal came to power, he asked people to do stiff against any corruption, this is exactly what happened. There has been a sting operation against Shivam Kejriwal, Sanmiti Patna said. The modus operandi as revealed in the video is that 90% profit will go to Kejriwal and 10% is divided among the accused. First, you give us 90% commission and then sell the liquor since you can, we don’t have this. We found in the video a liquor bottle in the bed of Kejriwal, Sanmiti Patna said, after playing the alleged sting video.

“Even when they were giving one bottle free with a liquor bottle, they were making profits. I would like to sum up this sting video as shocking, Sanmiti Patna said. “The ‘sting video’ is by Kulvinder Marwah, father of Sunnil Marwah, accused mum 12 in the scam. “It is an open and shut case because all these in this video,” Sanmiti Patna said adding that now Manish Sisodia has escaped the route now.

The Aam Aadmi Party has not yet reacted to the ‘sting video’. The CBI raided Manish Sisodia’s residence last month in connection with the liquor scam. His bank locker has also been searched while the charges and said that the BJP targeted Kejriwal be- cause of his rising popularity. The ruling coalition took a big decision in the state, and a day after the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) will be in the state, and a day after UP MLAs from Banaras also came to Delhi to protest against the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP).

Addressing the special press conference, the BJP leader Arvind Kejriwal was taking a dig at the Opposition BJP, Sanmiti said, “They should create an atmosphere of fear where two states are pitied against each other. They want to create an atmosphere of fear where two states are pitied against each other in order to persuade members of the ruling coalition to de- dact and overthrow the elected government, a strategy that has been adopted in states like Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, and Karnataka.”

The ruling coalition has a 26 MLAs majority in the MLAs which took a big decision in the state, and a day after UP MLAs from Banaras also came to Delhi to protest against the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP).

Durand Cup 2020:

Odisha FC down Army Green 1-0, finishing group stages with all-win record

Army New Delhi, Sept 5:

Odisha FC piled Army Green team (AGFT) 1-0 in the Durand Cup football tournament held in the capital city of New Delhi on Sunday. A solitary goal from Span- ish forward Pedro Martin (83rd minute) decided the game.

Furthermore, the two sides have signed an agreement in areas like water management, railway, science and technology, and also the connection of the link between the two countries has been established by signing an agreement on the interim sharing of river waters. The text of the memorandum of understanding (MoU) was finalised at the 38th ministerial-level meeting of the India-Bangladesh Joint River Commission (JRC) held in Delhi on August 28. The conclusion was constituted in 1972 as a bilateral mechanism to address issues of mutual interest on common rivers.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi visited Bangladesh last year when the country marked the 50th anniversary of its in- dependence, and the 100th birth anniversary of Shaukat Majibur Rahman, the founding father of the nation. Martin Demand celebrations were held in 20 capitals around the world including Delhi and Dhaka. Prime Ministers of both coun- tries have met 12 times since 2005.

India and Bangladesh have sought to create a model for regional cooperation besides reviving several connectivity initiatives over the last few years.
